
These curves come from training logs; the comparison table uses a separate shared COCOeval pass.